

Building Faculty Capacity for 21st Century Teaching
Proposed Final Report Requirements
Deadline: December 12, 2014
Send to: Beth Moy at moy@sepche.org

Please list and respond to the following questions (it would be helpful to send this in a word document in case I need to cut and paste a quote or two from you for the final report. Unless you notify me, data from this report may be included in the Foundation final report and/or in published articles about our collective work.)

- A. What specific questions related to the teaching of your discipline were you seeking to answer?
- B. What metacognitive strategies did you employ?
- C. What were your findings?
- D. What surprised you most about your findings?
- E. How has your approach to teaching evolved as a result of participating in this initiative?
- F. What are your next steps?
- G. How will you share your findings with your colleagues?
- H. What improved practices did you discover or confirm in the process of participating in this project?
- I. Would you participate in a future project?
- J. If you answer to question "I" was "yes," what might you do differently to improve student outcomes?
- K. What variables or outcomes would you have liked to measure that weren't measured in this effort?
- L. What variables or outcomes did you feel could not be measured but would be important to measure?

3. Please provide any other feedback you would like to share that would contribute to our collective understanding of your experience of the project and that might inform our future efforts.
